Living in Community

Our housing is in the Capitol Hill neighborhood located in the heart of downtown Denver. Living in community is an essential part of DUS as students learn alongside one another. The program is also able to accommodate married couples.

Denver

Sitting at the base of the Rocky Mountains, our city provides multiple urban and outdoor opportunities. As a city with 77 neighborhoods, students will be immersed in numerous cultural activities and be within walking distance of countless restaurants, coffee shops, parks, and community festivals that provide diversity and a multi-cultural experience.

Program Staff

Site Director - Greg Fuchs

Fuchs has a Master's degree from Denver Seminary and has worked as a youth pastor, Young Life director, high school chaplain, vocational coach, and urban semester director for over 20 years.

Assoc. Director - Millie Cline

Millie grew up in Texas and is a graduate Denver Seminary where she received her MA in counseling. Millie has been certified as a spiritual director through The Vincentian Center for Spirituality and Work in Denver.

Social Work Intern Supervisor Penny Salazar-Phillips

Penny directed the transitional housing program Joshua Station and now oversees and trains social work interns not only for DUS, but also the Schools of Social Work at the University of Denver and the University of Colorado Denver.
